

Jim Steele is a strong leader, successful senior business executive, and an expert in foreign policy, security, and counterterrorism. His success in business is a matter of record having developed, financed, constructed, and operated energy and security related projects valued in excess of $4 billion. Jim is the founder and CEO of JS Enterprises, LLC. a firm specializing in security consulting worldwide. A highly decorated soldier, Jim served 24 years in the U.S. Army, culminating in his selection for promotion to brigadier general before joining the private sector.